Presenting a tasteful synthesis of 1920s character and contemporary alfresco living, this delightfully renovated two bedrooms plus study Edwardian residence is peacefully situated in a coveted cul de sac just moments from the Junction. Exquisite period detail is faithfully preserved in a modern architectural renewal that culminates in the expansive, light-loving joy of an open-plan living area that extends effortlessly outdoors to an entertainers' deck. Under soaring ceilings and with leadlight windows adding character, the home flows past a pair of bedrooms that are well separated from living and have been updated with walk-in or built-in robes and plantation shutters - as well as a sparkling white ensuite for the main bedroom plus there is a genuine study also finished with shutters. At the rear of the home under an extended light-letting ceiling, the sense of light and proportion is immense as a Miele-equipped kitchen / dining / living highlights stone benches w...
